LET US BUILD WALKS

Now that mining conditions in Pioche are better than they have been in a great many years and that the prospects for the near future point toward a very great increase in activities, why not the property owners of Pioche look to the matter of permanently beautifying the town.

One of the great needs of the place at the present time is better side walks and a good beginning would be the building of cement side walks in the business part of the city. If the business men of Pioche will undertake this improvement in the early spring, it would not be long until the people of the residents sections would become inoculated with the germ and before we would scarcely know it, new walks would be built in all directions from Main street.

Pioche is abreast with the times in many things; but we must admit that there is a woeful lack of civic pride among some of our citizens. Why not begin now to discuss matters of this kind during the winter months and get in readiness for a general era of improvement in the spring?

It is no idle dream to anticipate that before the close of 1913 Pioche will have a population of several times what it is today and as the way of prosperity comes upon us, let us get together and make Pioche the most beautiful mining camp in Nevada. No section of the state contains such possibilities in a mining way. Strong men are taking hold of our mines and they are shaping to operate them upon an expensive scale.
The Nevada Utah properties will soon be active and they will be conducted along solid and substantial business lines.

The Day-Bristol company is arranging to build a tramway to bring its ores to the Jack Rabbit side of the mountain and when that is done, it is safe to say, this company will ship at least 7000 tons of ore monthly. The Home Run Copper is shaping for greater production; while other properties in the Bigfoot district, now idle, will be operated during the coming year.

The Prince Consolidated is already shipping 400 tons per day from its mines and the management is planning to have the Virginia-Louisie rapidly entering the bonanza class and scores of other properties could be named which will be producing next year.

Aside from mining, a growing interest is being taken in agriculture in the valleys contiguous to Pioche; and the ranges are covered with great herds of cattle and sheep, all of which will contribute to the material prosperity of Pioche and Lincoln county.

State Senator-elect Horsey has been deluged with letters from placeholders in the various parts of the state. It is understood that Editor Gray of the Commonwealth, at Death, is an aspirant for the position of secretary of the senate. In view of the present financial condition of the state, the members of the legislature will be doing the taxpayers of the state a signal duty if they cut down these "soft snaps" to the minimum.

Building a Poem.
"Any man on earth can be a poet if he tries," said a speaker at a bankers' banquet, "and there never was a better evidence than when the provost of Dundee died. It seems that the provost had been a fine man. His four deputies mourned him greatly, and after the funeral they all got together and decided that they should write him an epitaph.

"It was a hard matter to decide just how four men could write an epitaph, but it was finally settled by the agreement that the inscription should be a verse of four lines, each man to write a line. And so they started. The first man wrote his line. The second man scratched his head and then added his line to the first. The third man thought long, but finally got his inspiration and put down his line. Then the fourth, after much deliberation, made the final rhyme, and the epitaph ran something like this:

"Here lies the provost of Dundee, Here lies him, here lies he,
Hallelujah, hallelujah,
A-B-C-D-E-F-G!"

Spelling Shakespeare's Name.
E. H. Sothern in an article in a magazine on the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy gives the Baconians a sound drubbing. Because Shakespeare spelled his name in various ways the Baconians have been pleased to refer to him as a "barbarian." Here is what Mr. Sothern says on the subject of the spelling of the name:

"This is one assertion that is not denied. It is also true that Sir Walter Raleigh, admittedly one of the most cultured men of the time, spelled his name 'Rauley,' 'Rauleigh,' 'Raleigh' and 'Ralegh.' Sir Philip Sidney frequently signed himself 'Sydney,' while Spenser often wrote 'Spencer.' Take any of Shakespeare's contemporaries, and we find the same thing. Marlowe's name occurs in ten different spellings, Throckmorton's in sixteen, Gascoigne's in nineteen, Percy's in twenty-seven, while Ben Jonson wrote his in almost every imaginable form."

A Good Retort.
A Spaniard was traveling from San Sebastian to Biarritz in a first class compartment with an American.

"You Spaniards are a great nation," the American said. "But I can't understand how a nation that produced Velasquez and Valdes can stomach the savage cruelty of the bullfight."

The Spaniard rolled his black eyes at this, inhaled a great cloud of cigarette smoke and said:
"You have in America a number of societies for the prevention of cruelty to children. I believe?"

"Yes."

"And they do good work?"

"Oh, splendid work!"

Now the Spaniard showed his white teeth in a smile.

"Well, senor, such societies would be useless in my country," he said.

"The man who would lift his hand against a little child has not been born in Spain."—Los Angeles Times.

Mental Twilight.
Mental health passes into mental disease most commonly in a gradual way, as light passes into darkness. There is a mental twilight, a borderland in which it is impossible to say whether the patient is mentally ill or not. It is always well for a man who undergoes such changes mentally to consult his doctor, and it is always well for the doctor not to make too light of such a change because treatment is usually far more effective in that borderland stage than it is when the symptoms have been fully developed. The best test of mental health is when a man feels a conscious sense of organic well being, although many persons go through life with more or less of a sense of ill being all the time and are not on that account to be regarded as insane.

Acoma's Queer Graveyard.
What is perhaps the most remarkable graveyard in the United States ad-joints the old Spanish church in the ancient Indian pueblo of Acoma, N.
M., and took more than forty years to construct. The village is situated high in the air upon a huge, flat topped rock, many acres in extent and entirely bare of soil. In order to create the graveyard it was necessary to carry up the earth from the plain 300 feet below, a task that at a time, on the backs of Indians who had to climb their heavy loads up a precipitous trail cut in the face of the cliff. The graveyard thus laboriously constructed is held in place on three sides by high retaining walls of stone.—Wide
